Important points to remember

Trainees should kindly take care of adhering to the following practice/points for the smooth conduct of the online training:

- Trainees should ensure that they attend the training session in a silent place where they shall not be disturbed.
- Training should be accessed over a high-speed internet connection where possible; A cellular network may also be used if other high-speed connections are not available.
- A laptop or desktop computer would be preferable to use instead of a mobile phone. Training accessed on a mobile phone may be interrupted by phone calls and other notifications.
- Trainees should logon to the MS Teams application at least 15 minutes before the start of the training session.
- The online training should be attended with the same decorum as is expected in a regular classroom training. Therefore, trainees are NOT expected to use their mobile phones or consume food and beverages while the training session is in progress. Mobile phones may be kept on silent mode during the training.
- While the training is in progress, trainees should ensure that their microphones are turned off while they are not speaking. This is how the interface would look like when the microphone is disabled:

- Except during the break time, trainees should try to keep their cameras enabled for the entire training program where their internet connectivity allows them to do so. This will facilitate face to face online interactions and leads to a better training experience.

- When asking questions or raising queries or participating in discussion, trainee should ensure that her/his camera and microphone are enabled before she/he starts speaking.

Trainees should look at the camera while speaking. This ensures a better connection with the faculty and other participants in a virtual setup.

Communicating during the training

Trainees should keep their microphones on silent mode and may enable these to communicate with the faculty when specifically requested by the faculty. They may use the 'raise hand' icon to indicate to the faculty that they have a query or observation and await the faculty's go-ahead so as to allow for a streamlined environment for discussion during the online training. As far as possible, trainees should use the inbuilt features of the MS Teams Application to communicate during the training session.

The following methods may be used for discussing issues with or making queries to the faculty:

'Raise your hand'

This feature is analogous to raising one's hand in the real classroom/meeting environment. When a participant clicks on the highlighted button, the faculty gets notified on a real-time basis. You may request the attention of the faculty by using this feature and get your queries addressed. The outlined hand as shown in the image above represents a 'lowered hand'.

When using a Desktop/Laptop computer

Click on the icon to 'Raise your hand'. This is how a 'raised hand' should appear in your interface.

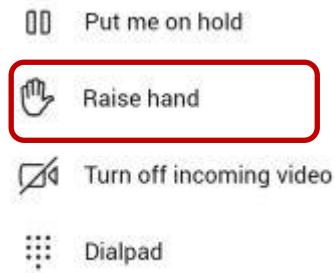

When using a Smartphone/Tablet

Tap on the three dots in the interface for more options.

Note: The trainees should leave/close the application only during the lunch break or after the conclusion of the last session of the day. If a trainee is not found to be present online for a large part of a session, she/he would be deemed to be absent from that particular session.
